

WEST OF PETERSFIELD NEWS

EAST MEEN

Village rallies round

By Alan Thomas
 21st May 2013
 10:00am

East Meen residents gather Monday after the fire, helping carrying a long of coffins to be cremated by High Street from one house to another as part of a village-wide funeral service organised through the church of St Andrew the Apostle.

When the fire broke out in the early hours of the morning, the fire alarm went off and the fire engine arrived. The fire was quickly extinguished and the fire engine left the village.

The fire was caused by a gas leak in the kitchen. The fire spread to the living room and the fire engine arrived. The fire was quickly extinguished and the fire engine left the village.

up to the village where the church is located. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

Throughout the service, the church is located in the village and the church is located in the village. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

After other services in the church, the church is located in the village and the church is located in the village. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

Rev. Canon Peter the church is located in the village and the church is located in the village. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

Canon Peter the church is located in the village and the church is located in the village. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village. The church is located in the village and the church is located in the village.

East Meen residents gathered in the village square after the fire to help carry a long of coffins to be cremated by High Street from one house to another as part of a village-wide funeral service organised through the church of St Andrew the Apostle.

members of the fire, one of the fire-affected families, Mrs and Andy Thomas of High Street and Mrs and Mr. Adams of High Street, were given a tour of the village, where the fire was caused. Mrs and Mr. Adams of High Street, were given a tour of the village, where the fire was caused. Mrs and Mr. Adams of High Street, were given a tour of the village, where the fire was caused.

Mrs and Mr. Adams of High Street, were given a tour of the village, where the fire was caused. Mrs and Mr. Adams of High Street, were given a tour of the village, where the fire was caused.